

Chair's Annual Review 2021-22

The year from April 2021 to 2022 has been a year in which the country has slowly moved out of lockdown and for Halsway Manor Society, it's been a good one. There has been a steady fiscal recovery, a full programme of events from May 2021 onwards, there have been staff changes which have been beneficial to the Society and Halsway continues to attract new customers. Whilst other similar organisations have had to close their doors, Halsway continues to survive and thrive.

By the end of the last financial year, Halsway's income rose by about £300,000 over the income from the previous year, and the Society achieved an end of year surplus of just over 70K increase over the previous year. (£71,704 vs. £903 in 2021). Some of this included exceptional government grants and Job Retention Scheme grants, but most income was achieved through Halsway's charitable activities, i.e. planned folk events. We also had some monies from donations and several legacies over the last couple of years; one from Donald James Ashton of £10,000, another from Derek Mulquin of £29,997, one from Helga Burt for £1,688 and one from Barry McNamara of £1,000. The board and Crispian thank these individuals and their executors for their generosity in leaving us these legacies in their wills. They will certainly enable us to re-engage with some of the capital projects we have had to postpone due to COVID. It's also worth noting that we have been able to increase our reserve from £100,000 to £120,000, a step closer to the target of retaining a full £200,000 in reserves. A full financial account of the year will be provided by Tony Millyard, Halsway board's treasurer.

I'm pleased to report that the Mews' garage project has been completed and has been successfully transformed into an extra craft room suitable for all year round use and for instrument making projects, especially. The new craft tables made and supplied by Tim Baker, one of Halsway's trustees, now have a permanent home and will be much used, I'm sure. This enables us to programme in more craft based courses which hopefully, will be run alongside other courses that will be largely using the main buildings. This will increase our overall income as well as offering a wider range of folk arts for people to come and enjoy here at Halsway. Tim's British Violin Making Association has already made good use of this new space and has brought in new people to Halsway.

The new build kitchen and newly renovated dining rooms have been well received and have proved to be invaluable in streamlining day to day operations and improving staff morale. A further sum of £20,000 was spent this year on refurbishing the bedrooms and on secondary double glazing for the windows in the mews, both of which should improve guests' comfort and warmth. Also, following a recent storm, repairs were necessary to the mews tower. This was covered by an insurance claim and provided an opportunity to fully renovate the structure.

There are further capital projects planned for the near future, including increasing Halsway's accommodation by erecting some bedroom pods in the Water Gardens and also replacing the pavilion building by the tennis court. Plans for these should be finalised in this next financial year.

Our course attendee figures show that approximately 25 -30% of all those who've come to Halsway last year have been new attenders. This is very encouraging and we hope that these new attenders will become regular attenders in due course. The feedback that we receive from all course participants shows an overall high degree of satisfaction with most aspects of their experiences – between 80- 90% for some aspects, especially for the course leaders and content of the courses. Most also regard a stay at Halsway as good value for money, and we hope this will continue as it becomes increasingly more stressful and difficult to take holidays abroad.

The average age of course participants remains in the older age groups, but I don't think this is going to change very much in the future. The fact that we have so many new people coming to Halsway is the most important factor – after all, everyone is getting older and these people will in turn become the next generation of 'regulars' at Halsway.

New people don't seem to turn into new members sadly. There were 312 Members of the Society at March 2022. This hasn't changed significantly in recent years, despite the board's best efforts to attract new members. This is of some concern to the Society because although the income raised from membership funds is not hugely significant, Halsway is a membership based charity, and being a membership organisation is intrinsically tied up with the fabric of our charity status. To change status from a membership organisation to any other kind of organisation would require the dissolution of the current company and the setting up of a new company complete with a new constitution, governing documents and orders. This is clearly undesirable so we continue to try to encourage new membership and now include a question about becoming a member on every feedback form. I hope it will make some people think about giving us their tangible support by joining our membership and having a say in the running of the organisation, just as you are all able to, here today.

From older folk to young folk, Halsway's Young Folk courses are going as strongly as ever and some of these young people demonstrated their talents and skills at this year's Sidmouth Folk Festival, with several competent and polished performances on the Saturday. They were led by a team of inspirational course tutors who worked with the young people to develop their own skills and abilities. Maybe some of these young people will become the course leaders of the future in due course of time. It would be good to think that Halsway played some small part in nurturing their talent.

Halsway Manor also continues to support professional and early career artists offering free use of the library and often free bed and board for those researching a project or just needing a space to work.

Halsway has also continued to work locally with young people and communities and over the year has extended the creative learning opportunities with the help of the Hinkley Point community fund. This has allowed us to work with many local schools on folk related projects in an area which is severely culturally deprived. A new project funded by the Heritage Fund through the Quantock Landscape Partnership began. This project which is to continue into 22/23 involves many schools workshops, a series of community events, research and production of a folk map and a new website.

The charity now works with several other organisations on collaborative projects to extend folk learning in community and education settings. It is a provider of skills workshops for the local authority, literacy projects for under resourced schools and a supporter of other charities in the region. Now that Halsway's financial surpluses are beginning to pick up again, we hope to be able to develop the outreach work that was planned to begin before the lockdown hit us. This work has a more ambitious focus and aims to not only widen our reputation as the national centre for folk arts but to also take the experience of the folk arts to communities and individuals who may not have had the opportunities to engage with 'folk' before. Peter Webb, the vice-chair with special responsibility for outreach work, together with Crispian, will be leading on this.

There have been a number of staff changes during this last year. Caroline Sweeney was promoted to House & Hotel Manager after lockdown and has done an excellent job in managing the staff and making staff and financial efficiencies in her time in the role. Lata Walter joined us in October 2021 as bookings manager, has settled well into her role and maintains a calm and efficient control over the complexities of the booking process. 'Old' Rachel departed for sunnier climes earlier this year and has been replaced by 'new' Rachel Wilkinson who has settled in without a backward glance and is doing a magnificent job as programme manager. I am looking forward to seeing what new ideas she has for Halsway and what she and Crispian will be programming for future courses. If ever there was a happy place to work, then Halsway is it, with all the staff changes this year making it even more so.

On the board, we have lost a number of the new trustees we recruited the year before. Colin Teasdale stood down in December last year, and both Gill Redmond and Bill Crawford stood down recently. Of those who joined the board in 2020, only Tim Baker and Jamie Robertson remain, but both are doing excellent work for Halsway, Tim with his contributions to the workshop developments and Jamie, with great attention to detail, is reviewing and updating all Halsway's governance documents and policies and procedures. He was assisted by Bill Crawford until he stood down – Steve Earwicker has now offered to work with him on this task.

We are welcoming to the board today, Deborah Wood who is an ex-headteacher and a committed 'folkie' and morris dancer. I hope she will prove to have the stamina to stay the course and to get involved in Halsway Board's activities. We will no doubt, find a good use for her work experiences and skills on the board. There is plenty to do and there are also some vacancies on the board which we hope to fill at next year's AGM. I would be pleased to have expressions of interest from any new potential trustees between now and next year.

On a sadder note, we are saying farewell today to Christine Corkett who is standing down after nine years on the board, but she has been a part of the fabric of Halsway for much longer than that. She has been the mainstay for many years of the craft shop, organising her sewing volunteers into making things and selling them on behalf of Halsway. How many of us have either a scarf, a tie, handbag, clothes peg bag or other such item that we bought here from the craft shop! She was the main imaginator and organiser of the magnificent sewn art work which hangs in the great hall and which has now become an integral part of the Manor's history. As well as all that, she has an encyclopaedic knowledge of the manor buildings and of the history of the Society. If you ever need to know something about Halsway, Christine is the person to ask – she will know! She has always said to me that she doesn't know what she brings to the board and I always have said that she brings more than enough to warrant her place there. I, and I'm sure other board members will miss her very much but we wish her well for her future years and I'm sure she will continue to be an active part of Halsway's community. I am pleased today, to be able to say that she has been awarded Lifetime Membership of Halsway Manor Society in recognition of all that she has done here.

On another even sadder note, we were all truly saddened at the shocking and untimely death of the very talented and wonderful folk performer Paul Sartin. He is sadly missed by so many people in the folk world and he had special links with Halsway Manor, especially through his work with so many other talented folk artists. One of his last ever gigs was here at Halsway only a few days before he died. For those reasons, I am very pleased to know that his name will live on with a bursary scheme dedicated to his memory. The first year's bursary will be funded with money collected at his funeral, so many grateful thanks to his family for including Halsway in his legacy. I can't think of a more fitting tribute to him than this.

This next coming year will be my last on the board at Halsway. I will be sad to go but I know that it will be time to move on and to let others carry on the good work. Steve Earwicker is currently vice-chair and I am hopeful that he will take over from me at the next AGM. I am confident that I will be leaving the board in good hands with a committed group of people to carry it forward.

Finally, as ever, I'd like to extend my thanks to all the staff at Halsway; the chefs, Ian and Amy, the kitchen and hospitality staff, the gardener Joe, the office staff, with a special thanks to James for his support in his role as company secretary and last but not least, to Crispian himself, the very embodiment of Lord of the Manor! What a fantastic place this is!

Who Benefits From Our Activities

In the 12 month period ending 31st March 2022, approximately 2,112 people attended residential courses and non-residential events and activities at Halsway Manor. Due to the covid pandemic Halsway manor operated for 318 days in the year compared to 365 days in previous years. We continue to look to develop new audiences and over recent times have managed to focus our learning courses to ensure we are offering the very best experiences. We are focussed on working with our hirers and on our own courses to make sure content and quality are excellent.

We continue to work with young people and communities and over the year have extended our creative learning opportunities with the help of the Hinkley community fund. This has allowed us to work with many local schools on folk related projects in an area which is severely culturally deprived.

Halsway Manor continues to support professional and early career artists offering free use of the library and often free bed and board for those researching a project or just needing a space to work.

The charity now works with several other organisations on collaborative projects to extend folk learning in community and education settings. It is a provider of skills workshops for the local authority, literacy projects for under resourced schools and a supporter of other charities in the region.

Trustee induction and training

New Trustees are briefed on their role by the Chair of the Trustees and provided with supporting documentation including the Articles and Memorandum of Association, minutes of meetings, the previous year's Annual Report and Accounts and a copy of the Charity Commission's publication "Responsibilities of Charity Trustees". The Trustees have regular development workshops throughout the year, for example, on the objectives of the Society and priorities for achieving them. There is also a skills audit carried out to assess strengths and weaknesses.

Consideration of major risks

The Trustees have considered the major risks to the Society. These include:

- risks to visitors, staff and contractors and risks to the buildings (including fire risk) which are currently identified and monitored through specific risk assessments
- risks to income generated through our activities which are addressed in our priorities to broaden the range of courses we offer, attracting new customers and in our capital development plans to improve and add to our facilities.
- Coronavirus and risks of prolonged closure, and for the health of customers and staff. Safety procedures to protect all staff and customers have been put in place, which follow UK government guidelines.

Our staff

The Trustees delegate the day to day running of the Society to the Chief Executive Officer, Crispian Cook. The Chief Executive Officer manages the staff team who are employed by the Society, (full and part-time). Staff are responsible for developing the annual programme of courses, events and activities, financial, business and operational management and delivery. Some maintenance services are provided by external contractors.

During the year, the society utilised the government coronavirus job retention scheme for its employees. One redundancy was made in the year.

Our volunteers

The Society benefits from the support of volunteers who undertake a variety of tasks including managing the library collection, running the 200 Club and helping to maintain the gardens. Volunteers also helped run the shop until September 2019, when the shop setup was revised and is now organised by Halsway staff. Funds raised by the 200 Club are donated to the Society to support its charitable aims. Many supporters from folk clubs, dance groups and organisations also raise funds through their activities which they donate to the Society.

Activities and achievements

We have been fully open since May 2021 and have offered a full programme of events. Although there was some initial hesitance from some of our partnership events and a number were cancelled bookings and attendance remained very strong and grew across the year. Bookings from new customers have risen to approximately 25-30% and many loyal customers returned as soon as they were able to. We continue to diversify the programme and the courses throughout the year followed the prepared budget relatively closely.

Staff retention remains very high and customer feedback has never been more positive.

The improved facilities, new kitchen and redecoration has been very well received by all. The kitchen has proved to be an invaluable resource and has significantly improved the operation dynamics, staff moral and customer satisfaction. This programme of improvement continued throughout the year. We continue to plan and implement new capital improvement projects and plans for the new workshop in the mews were finalised for final implementation in 2022.

Creative learning and community work continued over this time and a new project funded by the Heritage Fund through the Quantock Landscape partnership fund began. This project which is to continue into 22/23 involves many schools workshops, a series of community events, research and production of a folk map and production of a new website

Customer feedback

Feedback from participants is sought and collected after each event and reviewed monthly by the staff management team. Matters arising are discussed with the management team. Feedback during the year was restricted due to the covid related closures. The small amount of feedback that was obtained, showed a mostly positive stance on the events held and the manors additional covid safety measures put in place.

Measuring performance

In January 2013 the Board of Trustees agreed a performance measurement framework which was implemented in April 2013. These are designed to collect data so that the Board has a clear picture of progress in meeting our aims. This includes data on the quality of our activities and what people learn as a result of participating; the health of the organisation including finance, staff and governance; and health and safety issues. This is to be full review of these measures in the new business plan 2020 – 2024

Financial Review

Halsway Manor Society Limited is a company limited by guarantee (number 849615) and not having share capital. It is controlled by its members and governed by the terms of its articles of association. It is also a registered Charity (number 247230).

During the financial year total income generated was £868,943 (2021: £563,972). Of this amount income generated from folk courses and other charitable activities was £702,956 (2021: £57,583). The company opened for operations for from 17th May 2021 for the year.

The government Coronavirus job retention scheme was utilised during the closure up to 17th May 2021. Total claimed in 2021/22 was £39,270.

Unrestricted expenditure was £782,240 in the year (2021: £515,475).

Net unrestricted surplus is shown as £71,704 at the yearend (2021: £903). The 2020/21 net unrestricted surplus was adversely affected by the lost income due to the closure of the manor due to Covid-19.

Reserves policy

The Board review their reserves policy annually and this took place at the June Board meeting. Consideration is given to maintaining a sufficient level of reserves for the year ahead in the budget planning process. This includes the adoption of any recommendations made in the previous year by the Society's appointed Auditors. The Board of Trustees of the Halsway Manor Society have identified the need to retain a level of reserves of £120,000 to fund:

- Any unexpected shortfalls in income from its activities
- Any other unexpected expenditure, for example when projects overrun or unplanned events occur
- Ongoing overheads due to business interruption

The board has an aspiration to increase the level of reserves to £200,000 over the next three years, which would look to cover 6 months of costs in the event of closure.

Unrestricted free reserves at 31 March 2022 were £322,240 (2021: £255,490). Surplus funds held above the stated reserves are for continued redevelopment work and future capital projects, should this be required.

Coronavirus

The coronavirus pandemic and the UK lockdown caused Halsway Manor to close its doors to customers in March 2020 with reopening at the end of September. The manor was subsequently closed again in early November and did not reopen in till 17 May 2021. On reopening the manor operated at reduced capacity to allow for suitable social distancing, and have implemented an enhanced cleaning regime.

As with many arts organisations in the UK, this loss of income has been caused huge strain on the financial strength of the society. Through the generosity of Halsway's members and patrons, and the various grants from the UK government and the Arts council, the covid closures have not impacted finances in a negative way, as a small surplus was made in the year. Many plans and ideas to expand and improve Halsway's reach and influence, along with plans to improve facilities and event spaces at the manor have been put back 12 months due to the weaker financial position at the year end.

Donations policy

Donations given are for the general purpose of the charity unless otherwise specified. We will attempt to assign donated funds as requested, however any specification will be taken without imposing any trust. Donations given will always be used for the charitable activities of the Company.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect material misstatements in respect of irregularities, including fraud. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below:

The extent to which the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities including fraud

Our approach to identifying and assessing the risks of material misstatement in respect of irregularities, including fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations, was as follows:

- the engagement partner ensured that the engagement team collectively had the appropriate competence, capabilities and skills to identify or recognise non-compliance with applicable laws and regulations;
- we identified the laws and regulations applicable to the company through discussions with management, and from our commercial knowledge and experience of the charity sector;
- we focused on specific laws and regulations which we considered may have a direct material effect on the financial statements or the operations of the company, including the Companies Act 2006, Charity Act 2011, employment, data protection, Food hygiene, health and safety legislation and Water Supply Regulations 2018;
- we assessed the extent of compliance with the laws and regulations identified above through making enquiries of management and inspecting legal correspondence; and
- identified laws and regulations were communicated within the audit team regularly and the team remained alert to instances of non-compliance throughout the audit.

We assessed the susceptibility of the company's financial statements to material misstatement, including obtaining an understanding of how fraud might occur, by:

- making enquiries of management as to where they considered there was susceptibility to fraud, their knowledge of actual, suspected and alleged fraud; and
- considering the internal controls in place to mitigate risks of fraud and non-compliance with laws and regulations.

To address the risk of fraud through management bias and override of controls, we:

- performed analytical procedures to identify any unusual or unexpected relationships;
- tested journal entries to identify unusual transactions;
- assessed whether judgements and assumptions made in determining the accounting estimates were indicative of potential bias; and
- investigated the rationale behind significant or unusual transactions.

In response to the risk of irregularities and non-compliance with laws and regulations, we designed procedures which included, but were not limited to:

- agreeing financial statement disclosures to underlying supporting documentation;
- reading the minutes of meetings of those charged with governance;
- enquiring of management as to actual and potential litigation, claims and breaches of relevant legislation; and
- reviewing correspondence with the Charity Commission and other relevant regulators including the company's legal advisors and insurers.

There are inherent limitations in our audit procedures described above. The more removed that laws and regulations are from financial transactions, the less likely it is that we would become aware of non-compliance. Auditing standards also limit the audit procedures required to identify non-compliance with laws and regulations to enquiry of the directors and other management and the inspection of regulatory and legal correspondence, if any.

Material misstatements that arise due to fraud can be harder to detect than those that arise from error as they may involve deliberate concealment or collusion.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the charitable company's members, as a body, in accordance with Chapter 3 of Part 16 of the Companies Act 2006. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the charitable company's members and trustees those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the charitable company and the charitable company's members as a body and the charitable company's trustees as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

1. ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

The principal accounting policies adopted, judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty in the preparation of the financial statements are as follows:

a) Basis of preparation. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) (effective 1 January 2019) - (Charities SORP (FRS 102)), and the Companies Act 2006. Halsway Manor Society Ltd meets the definition of a public benefit entity under FRS 102. Assets and liabilities are initially recognised at historical cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant accounting policy note.

b) The accounts are prepared for the company alone. The company has a dormant subsidiary and consolidated accounts are not presented as the charity has taken advantage of the exemption provided by S405(2) of the Companies Act 2006 on the grounds of immateriality

Incoming Resources

All incoming resources are included in the SOFA when the Company is legally entitled to the income and the amount can be quantified with reasonable accuracy. Where amounts are received in advance the income is deferred until the date of the event held. For material legacies, entitlement is the earlier of the Company being notified of an impending distribution or the legacy being received.

Donations and gifts are accounted for when received, as are members' subscriptions. Income tax reclaimed in relation to amounts received under gift aid is included in the same period as the income to which it relates.

Gifts in kind are included at their value to the Company and are recognised as income when received. No amounts are included in the financial statements for services donated by volunteers.

Resources expended

All resources expended are accounted for on an accruals basis and are classified under headings that aggregate all costs related to the category. Costs not attributable directly to any of the principal expenditure headings are apportioned on an appropriate basis.

Fixed Assets

All fixed assets are stated at purchase cost plus incidental expenses of acquisition. Expenditure on capital items is capitalised for all items costing in excess of £1,500. Fixtures, fittings and equipment are depreciated at the rate of 10% on cost per annum on additions on a straight-line basis. Expenditure on computer equipment is written off over three years.

The Directors are of the opinion that the value of the freehold land and buildings is far in excess of its book value and that as such provision for depreciation between book value and estimated residual value is immaterial and no provision is made.

Debtors

Debtors represent project grants agreed, but not yet paid. A provision for the debtor is established when there is evidence that the charity will receive funding and the project begins. Debtors are recognised at transaction value.

Cash

Cash and cash equivalents comprise bank, cash on hand and other short-term liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

Creditors

Trade creditors are recognised where the charity has a present obligation resulting from a past event that will result in the probable transfer of funds to a third party and the amount due to settle the obligation can be measured or estimated reliably.

Customer deposits are recognised upon receipt as creditors, and are realised as income once the booked event has been provided.

Pension

The charity operates a workplace defined contribution pension scheme. Contributions are charged in the statement of financial activities in the period to which they relate.

Taxation

No charge to taxation arises in respect of any of the activities of the Company by reason of its charitable status.

Irrecoverable VAT

VAT that is irrecoverable following partial exemption calculations is included as an expense in the SOFA.

Fund accounting

General funds are unrestricted funds which are available for use at the discretion of the Directors in furtherance of the general objectives of the Company, and which have not been designated for other purposes. Restricted funds are to be used for specific purposes as laid down by the donor.

The trustees designate unrestricted funds where they feel it is appropriate to do so.

Financial Instruments

The charity only holds basic financial instruments as defined in FRS 102. The financial assets and financial liabilities of the charity and their measurement basis are as follows;

Financial assets – trade and other debtors are basic financial instruments and are debt instruments measured at amortised cost. Prepayments are not financial instruments. Investments are basic financial instruments and are debt instruments measured at fair value through the profit and loss.

Financial liabilities – trade creditors, accruals and other creditors are financial instruments and are measured at amortised cost. Taxation and social security are not included in the financial statement's disclosure definition. Deferred income is not deemed to be a financial liability, as the cash settlement has already taken place and there is an obligation to deliver services rather than cash or another financial instruments.

Cash at Bank – is classified as a basic financial instrument and as measured at face value.
